

Quality & Excellence: The Paper Chain Factory - Understanding and Developing Teambuilding Skills

Thursday, October 7, 2004 - 8:15 a.m. to 12:00 Noon

LOCATION: to be announced (In Winnipeg)

The Manitoba Quality Network (QNET) provides resources, information session and training on Quality & Excellence as part of QNET's focus on improving quality and organizational effectiveness.

The Paper Chain Factory is a half-day participatory simulation that helps individuals understand and develop their team building skills. Using a manufacturing setting, participants indulge in a series of activities designed to emphasize the various tasks and team skill sets that one would need to acquire to have an effective team in any company or organization.

This workshop is designed for those individuals who are engaged in team building. The workshop will include an interactive discussion of team building and its challenges and opportunities. Working together, participants will determine a production process to transform raw material (paper) into a finished product.

Who should attend: This workshop is geared towards any individual interested in team building and who wished to acquire tools and techniques that they can share with individuals in their own organization.

Facilitators: Jonas Sammons and Fred Wonnick are both business trainers and advisors. Fred Wonnick was previously a senior manager with Manitoba Hydro and Jonas Sammons taught for 10 years in the Faculty of Management, University of Manitoba and was recently made a Fellow of the Asper Centre for entrepreneurship.
