

LEADERSHIP & MANAGEMENT

QNET presents:

Introduction to Management: The Basics

In Winnipeg – Tuesday, October 6, 2009 – 8:15 a.m. to 4:15 p.m.

The first in the Certificate in Management Development (CMD) series, this workshop covers the full range of management and leadership responsibilities from planning, budgeting and scheduling; to organizing and staffing; to directing and supporting staff; and to controlling and problem solving. You need not be enrolled in the CMD to take this course.

Learn the core concepts of leadership style, how individuals and teams develop and role-play a discussion of performance management between a leader and a follower. This workshop also covers the basics of training new staff, goal setting, performance planning and review; assigning tasks; monitoring performance; dealing with performance problems; discipline, and other situations where the leader/manager is required to direct the work of others.

Participants in the CMD should attend this session to hear details of the full program and meet other participants; learn the basics of management theory; fully understand the roles and responsibilities of a leader and manager; learn the concept of Performance Management.

Facilitator: Al Holmes of SEQUUS is a management trainer, designer, consultant, evaluator, writer, and strategic planning facilitator. He has more than 25 years experience in the business either in his own consulting firm, in partnership with others, or with the Manitoba Institute of Management.

This workshop is:
